*As events occur,
we all become involved in one way or another.
Throughout the year we participate and strive to be #1.
Even if we don't become the best,
the most important aspect is for us to retain our pride and hold our heads high.
We must not be intimidated, but
Go For It*

... Grandly

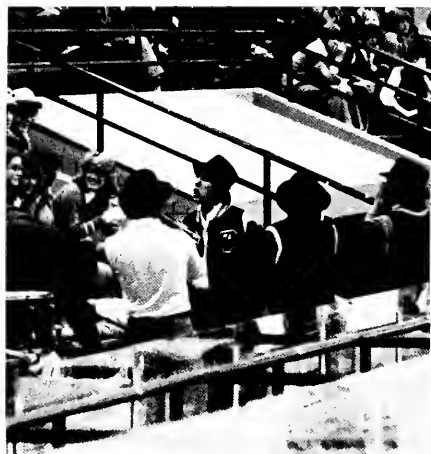

*Yahooooo!!!!!!!
Everyone has a crazy side that slips out once in a while.
Sometimes it's good enough
just to be different, while other times we have to go all out and get freaky.
We live by the rule-
If you feel the urge, DO IT!!!
Go For It*

... Outrageously

*Always
 we try to express ourselves without inhibition.
 When we have a dream,
 we try to make it reality.
 We like to be happy,
 so we are.
 We have a lot of spirit,
 and we show it.
 Always active,
 We Go For It*

... Fredly

*Have you ever noticed how different you are?
Everyone has his own quirks.
We all do it differently.
There is always one thing that you and only you do.
It might come and go,
but we always have it.
The creativity shines through;
it gives us a sort of aura.
People will probably end up copying us, but we know we once did it...*

... Originally

Although
we are expected to conform to the rules,
some of us just can't.
We need a way to unwind,
to GET FIRED UP!!!!!!!!!!
We don't conform but we don't care.
This is our way of being us;
getting rowdy and
Going for it

... Radically

*When we have to do it, we can.
It's just a matter of how hard we try.
The concentration
we put into our lives
shows through our faces
and in our actions.
Focusing our conduct on one thing,
We Go For It*

... Intensely

*We never give in,
even when the pressure gets so great it makes us want to burst.
Giving it all we've got;
that's important to us.
Nobody can discourage us
from achieving our final goal.
We couldn't forgive ourselves if we stopped short of the end, because

Administrators Meet New Challenge

Chugiak's administrators took on a new challenge this year, with 1500 students to organize and a lot of School Board policies to put into action. But they rose to the challenge under the seasoned leadership of Principal Ed Nash.

Nash was not the only experienced administrator, with Mr. Bill Kuhlmann still in charge of activities in his small office next to the senior high gym. Mr. George Penrose also returned this year but not as the high school disciplinarian. Instead he took over as junior high principal for Gruening.

Newcomer Mrs. Debbie Reading, a transfer from East High, took over curriculum this year, replacing Mr. Tom Luce who was transferred to Dimond, and immediately began to organize the responsibilities of the curriculum office by the book, that is, following established procedures. Mr. Lee Winn, formerly of North Pole High School, took over the vice principal of discipline position. The school district policies he had to enforce did not endear him to the student body, but as he said, "It's not a popular job."

Teachers Manage Diversified Interests

Few teachers at Chugiak have an identity crisis, but it would be understandable if they did. Sometimes it seems that teachers are about 5 different people rolled into one. This is because their job often requires them to be instructors, counselors, and disciplinarians. Besides these identities, many teachers also sponsor or coach extracurricular activities. Just think what school would be without the football team, pep club, band and all the other clubs and sports. All of these are made possible by the teachers' participation.

Both teaching and doing other activities requires patience, hard work, and a willingness to sacrifice time and energy. All of these different sides of the teacher's job have their demands, yet they also have their rewards. These vary from seeing learning and understanding in the classroom, to winning a game or getting a full house for a performance. Fortunately for all, the more that teachers get involved, the more all students get out of their year at CHS, and Chugiak's teachers are always willing to help out.

Varied Support Services Prove Vital

Many of the people who keep the school running smoothly are sometimes the people we think of least. They provide the many support services that are often forgotten, yet always necessary. As diversified as these jobs all are, they all have one thing in common: helping the students by making Chugiak a better place to be.

The secretaries in the offices, the librarians, always ready to help with any kind of research, and the security guards who roam the halls all day, all do their jobs and often times a little bit more. Then there are the cooks and nurses to take care of food and health needs. The maintenance staff works day and night to handle all kinds of problems, and keep the school looking good.

Because of all that these people provide, everyone's time at school is made easier and more pleasant.

Students Launch Year With Six Hours

With the start of the new school year, students noticed several additions and changes at school. The junior high halls were painted colors like lime green, radiant yellow, and bright blue.

Another change was the addition of two new administrators. Mrs. Debbie Reading, who is in charge of curriculum, spends most of her time working with the faculty. However the students soon became familiar with Mr. Lee Winn, disciplinarian, for his controversial "Winn's Laws."

Over last year, Chugiak gained eleven new teachers, and the return of one former staffer. Another major change was the new track and football field, which was quickly put to use by the J.V. football team for home games and P.E. classes for flag football and lap running.

Probably the most noticeable change for students was the six hour day and the shorter passing time between their classes. This change was one met with many mixed reactions.

"Boom Chick-a-Boom!" yell the football cheerleaders at the Homecoming assembly.

Active Week Increases Winning Spirit

With the Homecoming game only a week away, the halls of CHS came alive with activity. On Monday students were seen wearing the craziest of hats and the wildest of socks. Well prepared for Tacky Day, many came to school clad in plaids and stripes on Tuesday. During lunch, representatives from each class participated in the annual steeple chase, won by the seniors, and the Pony Express Bicycle Race, which was conquered by the sophomores. Getting down to the sound of the 50's, the dudes and chicks came to school Wednesday wearing bobby socks, leather jackets, ponytails, and greasy hair. They had the opportunity to boogie in the senior high cafeteria during lunch. On Thursday, dressing as grandparents and teachers, a handful of students wore gray hair and wrinkles for Geritol Day. Friday was the traditional Black and Aqua day. Spirit Week ended with a pep rally, which got everyone in a winning mood for the Homecoming game.

Grid Victory Highlights Homecoming

Inspired by a win the previous week over Palmer, the Mustang football team went into the 1978 Homecoming Game full force. The media sported news flashes and headlines broadcasting "Chugiak Upsets Dimond 13-3." Coach Huffer attributed the win to the fact that the team was really "UP" for the game and to the tremendous attendance and spirit of the school.

Halftime activities included a 12-car parade with class floats, a special pep club float, and seven Porsches carrying the 1978 princesses. The pep band performed during halftime, along with the notorious pep club potato dancers.

Each class picked an era in time within the theme Mustang Generation. Halftime came to a close with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Colleen Phillips, and the announcing of the winning float, the juniors with Disco Fever-the 70's.

Co-chairmen Rebecca Roberts and Polly Tritt stated that a lot of hard work and time went into making this year's homecoming a success, but the final score made it the BEST homecoming in years!

Opening Dances Prove School Spirit

The beginning of school is always exciting but there's nothing like two dances back to back to get the spirit into things. The first dance of the year, Homecoming, was sponsored by Student Faculty Congress and was held October 7. After the Homecoming game win of 13-3, it was a great way to open the year. A month later on November 10 it was time for the girls to ask the guys to the Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the Mat Maids.

At both dances the disco sound of Pyramid filled the air, with an added attraction of real "hoe-down" music at Sadie Hawkins. While Homecoming sported long dresses and disco outfits, hillbilly dress and "yoga" tolo costumes invaded CHS during Sadie Hawkins.

"The dances were real successes," commented Homecoming chairman, Rebecca Roberts and Mat Maids president Christina Clayton. "The student body turnout was large. A lot more people showed up than we had expected. The enthusiasm the people showed for all our work was encouraging!"

Horror Production Is Chugiak's First

The fall play, "Count Dracula," was the first horror production to be performed at CHS. With auditions held in early October, the cast of eleven thespians was chosen. Rehearsals were held three hours a day for four weeks, rather than the traditional six weeks with two hours of practice each day.

The elaborate and realistic stage props were expensive and difficult to construct, according to director, Ms. Gay Monteverde. The authenticity of the English castle setting is a credit to the talents of the hard-working stage crew.

Promotional efforts were very successful. Posters were designed by eighth grader John Lenz and printed by Career Center students. Black tee-shirts displaying in bright red letters the phrase "I want to bite your neck" were extremely popular.

To sum up the performance of her dramatists, Ms. Monteverde commented, "I'm very proud of the entire cast and crew. With few exceptions, they performed at a totally professional level and consequently produced a really good play."

First Time J.A. Comes To Chugiak

Chugiak High School had its first taste of the National Junior Achievement this year with a local chapter sponsored by the Chugiak-Eagle River Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club. The purpose of the program is to teach high school students how to organize and run businesses, take care of losses, labor, materials, and merchandising, and of course to reap the profit of all their labor. Candles, wreaths, Alaskan fungus art, and native clay ceramics were the money-making products. They were produced at Chugiak High School every Wednesday beginning in November.

JA consisted of 16 members including 8 officers. President Susie Sprague, with the help of Phil Earl and Jake Crisafulli, lead the group through the first year frustrations. They sold their products at local businesses and divided their profits among shareholders at the end of the year.

Concerts, Festivals Occupy Musicians

Hidden talent surfaced in the Chugiak instrumental programs. Both the Symphonic Band and Orchestra produced many promising musicians and their accomplishments were many, according to Mr. Darrel Daley and Mr. Marlow Thomas.

With thirty-seven members, the Symphonic Band performed three concerts, marched at the Homecoming game and in the Fur Rondovous Parade, participated in the annual Solo/Ensemble and Music Festivals, and played at graduation. Performing at fifteen athletic events, the CHS Pep Band augmented game attendance.

This was the first year the Orchestra was able to perform as a complete group. Percussionists and brass and wood-wind players from the band practiced and performed with the Orchestra at the Christmas concert.

A total of twenty-two musicians represented Chugiak in the Solo/Ensemble Festival in February. This was the largest number that had ever participated. Both groups also made special appearances at the local elementary schools.

Christmas Spirit Descends Upon CHS

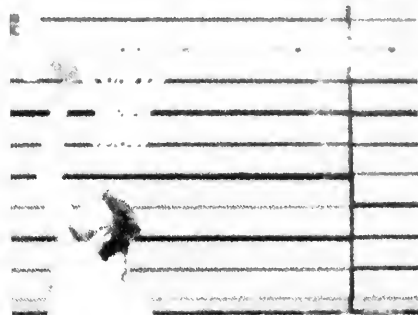

With the sounds of music and bells, Christmas spirit hit CHS full force. Teachers and students alike joined in the fun by decorating homeroom doors for the annual SFC door decoration competition. Mrs. "Mac" Owen's first hour English class won first prize with a fireplace all decked out with old literature author's stockings. Another prize was given to Mr. Primis' modern dance class. Two concerts were held and canned food was charged for admission. These cans were donated to the Salvation Army Christmas drive. The senior class won the Honor Society-sponsored canned food drive, and held a Santa photo booth at an Eagle River shopping center during vacation.

On December 27, the CHS Alumni gathered for an Alumni Basketball game, featuring "old-grads" vs. "new-grads." The old grads were victorious. Following the game a potluck banquet was held in the Social Studies Center. This year's Alumni Night was coordinated by Mr. Andy Kirk. An alumni association was formed and they will be planning next year's athletic and family night.

Inferno Adds Fire To '79 Winter Ball

Disco Mania! On the night of January 19, the senior class came alive with the activities of the biggest disco dance of the year. The Winter Ball, sponsored by the class of '79, took on a new theme this year. Instead of the traditional "ball" type dance with semi-formal dress, the "ball" turned "DISCO". Terry Curran and his disco sound system provided the music and lighting effects. An afternoon of hard work produced a sparkling cafeteria featuring metallic snowflakes hanging from the ceiling and silver writing on the walls. The evening was highlighted by a "Disco Inferno." Flames were shot off as high as the ceiling from Curran's fire pots.

"We really worked hard and are so happy that the dance was a success," commented Co-Chairpersons Julie Bakeberg and Elizabeth Zib. "Knowing that all the profit would be going to graduation made us work all the harder. Non-stop dancing was also great. It's nice when a band doesn't take any breaks. With all that dancing it was hard to keep the punch bowl full," concluded Julie.

Drama Schedule Adds Winter Musical

This year at CHS a winter play was added. This play, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," was directed by Ms. Gay Monteverde and Chris Arnbrister. Presented on January 12 and 13, it was the first musical since "Oklahoma" in 1975. Auditioning the cast were Mr. Steve Primis, choreographer, and Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes, chorus director. The entire performance took place on one set built by Chris Schmidt and Tim Montgomery.

Before the curtains rose, the cast and crew did a lot of promoting. A critic from the Anchorage Times attended the show and wrote an article. The thespians were asked to perform at many places, but the group had to decline. The Theatre Guild Company from Anchorage, who were performing the same show, came and saw the play here at Chugiak. They then invited the cast and crew to see them perform. Ms. Monteverde stated, "This was the best play I ever worked with because everyone, cast and crew, gave 100%."

New Campaign Increases Paper Sales

The Mustang Round-Up staff began the year with a revolutionized promotional campaign. Apart from the usual good stories, pictures, and news reports, a golden ticket was added to a selected number of papers. Upon filling out this ticket those lucky ticket holders were eligible to participate in a drawing for various prizes. The prizes ranged from a record album to fall play tickets for a performance of Count Dracula.

The Round-Up staff was divided up into five main groups. These consisted of the News and Sports staff which included the editor Andrew Cochrane, the editorial staff, the features, a few strays, and last but not least the Peanut Gallery, made up of the new junior high staff.

With a new six-page paper coming out every two weeks, the schedule was pretty hectic. During the first week of each two week periods, stories were due. The second week, layouts and pictures were expected from the various sections. Along with this, pasting down and checking pages occurred, then ... OFF TO THE PRESSES!

Staff 'Goes For It' With Total Book

This past year the yearbook staff decided to go all out. First was the break from the traditional book to the new "total book" concept. With this new feature of the book, the staff could cover events during the entire year, instead of the traditional September through March book with a supplement addition.

All plans for this year's book were made at a full and rewarding week-end retreat at the Eliassen's lake cabin in Wasilla. Getting organized caused a few minor problems, as the staff was a relatively new one this year. They deeply felt the loss of last year's graduating staff for the first few months. Through a lot of hard work and determination, the staff decided it was time to forget the past staffs and build a new and even better one. This year the Babiche '79 staff decided it was time to "GO FOR IT!"

With this attitude the staff worked the long and hard hours that it takes to produce a book and came up with a final result, which they term "the best ever!"

Coordinator Praises Center's Efforts

"The Career Center is extremely successful," says Mr. Ken Rouse, Chugiak's coordinator for the trade learning school. "So successful, in fact, that ninety-nine percent of the students who start taking classes at the beginning of school will continue to do so." However, one setback is that only 10-15 students from CHS can attend. Students from all area schools attend the courses.

Over twenty courses are offered at the Center, the more popular ones being Wild Fire Lands Management (Firefighting), Emergency Medical Training, and Tourism. "Tourism is so completely filled we can't get any people into it," states Mr. Rouse.

Students need not be concerned about present low grades. "We're not worried about previous grades. We want to know what the student will do upon entering."

Mr. Rouse also would like to emphasize that this is an excellent opportunity for job-bound students.

ROTC Stresses Leadership As Goal

Students at Chugiak involved with ROTC are not to be taken lightly. Because over 100 students were enrolled for the first time in three years, the group has accomplished many new things. This also brought new advantages.

Along with the Service High School branch, they traveled to San Diego for a week of orientation at different naval stations. A day at Sea World was enjoyed by all.

Other activities ranged from an opportunity to fly in a P-3 Orien to the annual Dining Out which was attended by all the ROTC'ers from other schools in the district. The dinner was followed by an awards banquet.

Being involved with ROTC wasn't all vacation and dinners. Students learned the true goals of ROTC—to be a leader and the values of self-discipline. This was done under the supervision of Lieutenant Colonel Errol Hammann and his assistant, Sergeant Edward Bradley.

Standing at Attention: Front-Colonel Errol Hammann, Debbie Trudeau, Tammie Green, Cadet Ensign, Sheila Stroud, Petty Officer First Class, Mike Szafranski, Duane Goshe, Sr. Chief Petty Officer, Sergeant Ed Bradley, Ray Bryant, Cadet Commander. Back Row—Doug Cruthers, P.O. Third Class, Mark Cruthers, Executive Officer, John Farthing, Frank Crane, Dave Wolfall, Ensign.

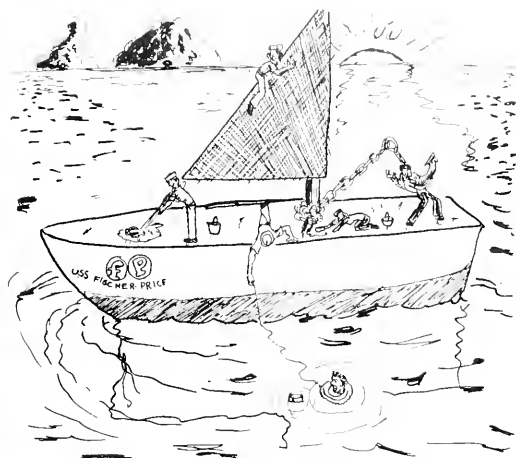

With great concentration, Vernita Green, Laura Townsend, and Steve Walcutt hold the NJROTC banner. Jeff Lowry and Charlie Wolfe try to imagine the day when they will acquire the skill.

Before he begins class, Lieutenant Colonel Errol Hammann closely inspects his agenda for the day.

Hub Club Finances Future Projects

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Andy Kirk, the Hub Club was one of the most active organizations at CHS this year. A main undertaking was completion of the courtyard. They worked together with the Industrial Arts and Architecture classes toward this goal. The group hoped to start construction in the spring, having students do the actual design and workmanship. The Book-a-Nook committee raised money for the courtyard and provided the students with educational and enjoyable reading. The student rights and responsibilities committee worked in conjunction with the Adolescent Problems Class and Student Faculty Congress to create an equilibrium between students, teachers, and parents. Students also sponsored a girl in Guatemala and a boy in Kenya by contributing a dollar a month. The Wacko Decathlon was planned to bring the classes together through interclass competition. Also, much work went into the aluminum can collection drive.

SFC Increases Students' Involvement

The Student-Faculty Congress has had an all out year, trying to fill students' needs and requests. Meetings were held twice a month during first period classes, with ideas bursting at every opportunity. With President Lynn Sickles and the vice-presidents leading the group, SFC became totally involved in many activities including the fall and spring leadership workshops for interested students in the school. SFC also sent ten delegates from Chugiak High to represent them at the

A.A.S.G. conferences held at Wasilla on October 27-28. A big event for the group was the Fall Carnival held at the high school on Nov. 18. The $700 made went towards the purchase of a P.A. system for the new football field.

SFC was mainly concerned with preventing vandalism, beautifying the school, and combating student apathy. "The number one item on the agenda was to get more student body involvement," said SFC sponsor Mr. Bill Kuhlmann.

Various Projects Fill Society's Year

This past year Honor Society took on a new role. With a majority vote, the club decided to become a fund raising club along with the traditional service projects. Selling pens, pencils, and bumper stickers were just some of Honor Society's money making projects. Service is just as high on the list as in years before, with registration being the first major endeavor. A guide service for new students was also formed by club members. Some Honor Society members became lunch and after-school tutors. They helped tutor people who were having problems in Math and English. A grade school tutorship was also put into effect. Members spent one class period a week at Birchwood Elementary as teacher aides.

Inductions for new members was held during an assembly on March 27. New members were inducted in a school-wide assembly and honored at a tea which followed in the library. For the second year, Mrs. Gena Ornquist was once again the hard-working sponsor behind the scenes.

'Mouth' Reappears With Literary Club

With a big push and many meetings, a Literary Club reappeared at CHS. The "Horse's Mouth", a literary magazine, had not been published at Chugiak High since 1967. This year's sponsor Mrs. Sue Thrasher, decided to open the club to all grades, seven through twelve.

The group sprang into action to put out a magazine that contained student writing, poetry, photos, and drawings. The group initially had a problem getting people to submit articles.

The Literary Club then went around to the teachers and asked for suggestions of students' work. Mrs. Thrasher said that this was how they succeeded in producing a 30-page magazine.

The "Horse's Mouth", was published once this year, in April. They were sold for $2.00 a piece, and there were 250 copies printed. The goals of the club were to get a lot of material and turn out a good magazine; next year their expanded goal will be to publish two or more magazines.

The club members work together to get the job finished.

Cross Country Group Stresses Fitness

One of the most active clubs in the school has got to be the Cross Country Club. "With meetings once a week and almost perfect attendance at every meeting, the club has certainly shown leadership and responsibility," said sponsors Andy Kirk and Renee Henry. Not only are cross country runners and skiers welcome to join but anyone else that is interested in year-round conditioning.

Once a month the club gets together for an out-of-school activity. Sometimes it's a ski trip to Alyeska or a picnic. In the summer the members get together and condition. It may be a run up Thunderbird Falls or a hike up Old Baldy. The Cross Country Club also helps in the inter-class and intramural activities, such as the steeple chase, the two mile walk, the one-hour run, and the faculty/ student soccer game. This is the third year the club has been in existence. They have sold T-shirts, hats, and scarfs to finance roller skis and spikes for the group.

Century Club Officers: Historian Linnea Crosby, Sgt.-at-Arms Martin McCubbin, Treasurer Andy Cochrane, Secretary and Double Century President Tom Lane, Vice President Richard Phillips, President Charlie Reynolds.

Century Club Cyclists Cruise In Style

Although the cycling course had to be dropped, there remained a great interest in cycling, stated Mr. Andy Kirk, Century Club sponsor. The club's purpose was simply to have fun and learn the proper care of a bicycle.

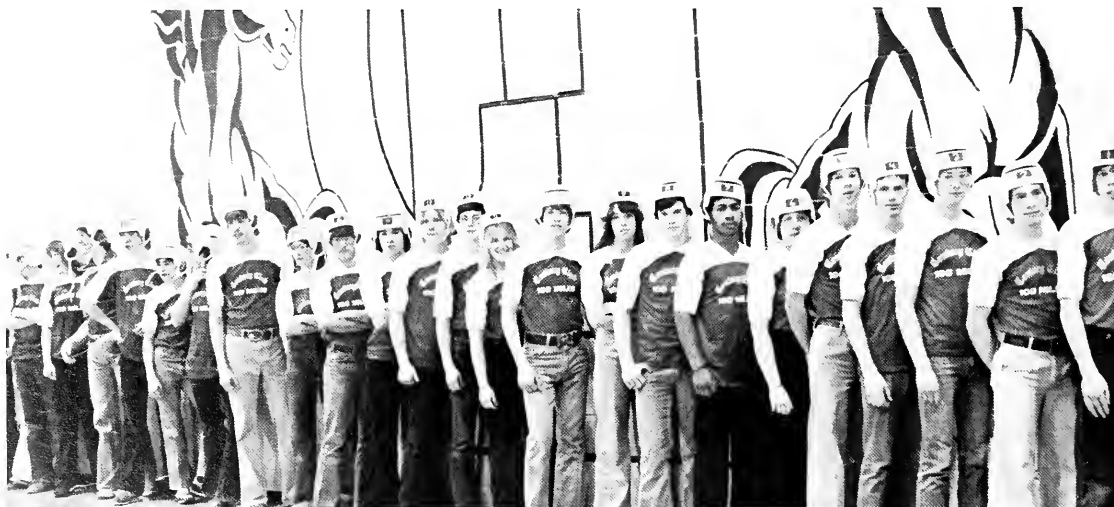

With forty-five members, this has been the largest Century Club at CHS. To qualify as a member, one must cycle one hundred miles within a twelve hour period. There are eight Double Century members, who have traveled two hundred miles within twenty-four hours.

There was only one race this year. The other trips were just for fun.

A bicycle was raffled off in December. The $152 raised was used to purchase twenty-four bright orange safety helmets. These were used in the bike race and on marathon trips.

"Despite the lack of a cycling course, we still have more bicycling than ever before. I'm really pleased with that," commented Coach Kirk.

Busy Supporters Have Creative Year

This school year proved to be an active and creative one for Pep Club. Potato dancers and secret pals were two of the many new creations of Pep Club. The Potato dancers were members dressed in children's pants and kingsize pillowcases. Eyes were drawn on this costume, but none were for seeing. The fact that no one could see where they were going added to the excitement. This year's members also became secret pals of some varsity team members. Before games the team players' lockers were secretly decorated and goodies appeared inside the locker.

Organizing pep assemblies and assisting with athletic banquets were among the other jobs of Pep Club. Members made all preparations for the football banquet, "which was really great," commented this year's new sponsor, Mrs. "Mac" Owen. "I believe that with the cooperation of the student body, we have promoted student interest at Chugiak. We BELIEVE in CHSI!"

Large Mat Maid Club Rolls In Dough

There seems to be strength in numbers, according to Mr. Darrel White, wrestling coach and Mat Maid sponsor. With over twenty-five active girls, this has been the largest Mat Maid group at CHS.

Through the sales of doughnuts, candy, T-shirts, and the profits from dances and wrestling schedule poster ads, the Mat Maids were able to purchase weight equipment not only for the use of the wrestling team, but for all athletic teams as well. Stickers for head gear, oranges, pep busses to away meets, and wrestling awards are among the many things provided by the treasury.

Mat Maids sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in October, and the Wrestlers Ball Disco Dance in March. Both dances were well attended and profitable. They also participated in the Fall Carnival, sponsored their own pep assembly, prepared for the end-of-season banquet, and assisted in elementary school wrestling. At the Banquet, Chris Clayton and Jennifer Wilson were voted outstanding Mat Maids.

Coach White commented, "The Mat Maids' selfless service to this school is a great example for all students to follow."

Lack Of Support Hinders Letter Club

With the initiation of new members, Chugiak High School's letter club, C-Club, started off the new year. Selling concessions at volleyball and basketball games, wrestling matches, and the fall carnival were just a few of their activities. Their main objective was to raise money to send outstanding athletes to summer camps pertaining to their sport.

Lack of leadership and participation soon led the club to partial disaster. A large amount of money was misplaced and the club had to be closed. Given the choice of surrendering the club room to be used by any organization needing to earn money, or keeping the concession stand for themselves and starting over again, C-Club chose the latter. With the help of sponsors Mr. Bill O'Thuse and Mr. Jim Taylor- a few active members succeeded in bringing the club out of debt. Due to their previous loss of funds, the club was unable to give athletic scholarships as in previous years.

New Director Builds Choral Program

The '78-'79 school year was a great success for both the chamber and swing choir, according to Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes, choral director. The chamber choir has almost tripled in size, while the swing choir was kept at fourteen members.

All concerts were well attended. The fall concert, first one of the year, had over four hundred people present. Cans were charged as admission to the Christmas concert. Three hundred cans were collected for the canned food drive.

Recognizing the other talents of the choral groups, Mrs. Jaynes decided to put on two giant spring productions. They were H.M.S. Pinafore and a 50's orientation that included songs from the movie "Grease."

Money was raised by the sales of candy, carnations, and admission charged at concerts. Microphones and sound equipment, music, props, percussion equipment, and the material for outfits were purchased. Outfits were sewed by the songsters.

"We've come a long way in building the choral program this year," commented Mrs. Jaynes in reference to the choirs.

Show, Pageant Feature CHS Talent

On April 2, the choir sponsored a talent show open to entries from within the school. First prize, which was twenty-five dollars, went to four junior high guys doing a KISS performance. Second place was a tie and ten dollars was split between Jeanie Oberg doing an Irish Folk jig and the Country Trio with their version of the Orange Blossom Special. Appearing as special guests were Dale and Vicki Sanders, the singing duo.

On February 24, 1979, a queen was crowned.

Class Of '80' Claims Wacko Victory

With a lot of work and class spirit, the junior class ran away with this year's Decathlon. The juniors totaled 66 points, with the sophomore class coming next with 58 points.

The 1979 Wacko Decathlon went smoother than last year's decathlon. "The cooperation of the faculty and students is the reason it went over so well," said sponsor Mr. Andy Kirk. This is the second year the Hub Club has put on the decathlon, and they plan to make next year's even better.

The events included the piggy-back race, three-legged race, class pyramids, couples' balloon race, graveyard relay, raw egg throw, spider wheel race, pie eating contest, wheel barrow race, and the tug-o-war. This year the slow bicycle riding contest and the nail driving contest were eliminated.

Some of the committees were the officials' committee, the judges' committee, and the scoreboard committee. They all were formed to work together and produce a successful decathlon.

Big Season Is Highlighted By Trophy

The Debate, Drama, and Forensics teams began the year with a large turnout, according to the team coaches. They had a season of five meets and had the pleasure of bringing home a first place trophy at the end of one of the tournaments.

The drama competition included solo and duet acting, improvisation, and Reader's Theater. Drama Coach Ms. Gay Monteverde noted that Kurt Hargan, Pamela Ash, and Chris Arnbrister displayed exceptional talent.

Forensics consisted of dramatic and humorous interpretation, original oration, and radio announcing. Ms. Monteverde and Debate Coach Mr. Warren Hagman commented that Chris Male was a great asset in the field of extemporaneous speaking, and played an important role in debate wins.

The Debate team consisted of ten members. Preparing their own evidence, they debated on whether or not the U.S. is too dependent on foreign oil. Two team couples were sent to the state competition on April 27.

"The teams became formidable competitors and posed a threat to the other schools," concluded Coach Hagman with pride.

'Battle Of Sexes' Takes Spring Stage

The spring production this year was not one play, but three one-acts, with a central theme, "The Battle of the Sexes." Ms. Gay Monteverde directed them, along with three student directors, one for each play.

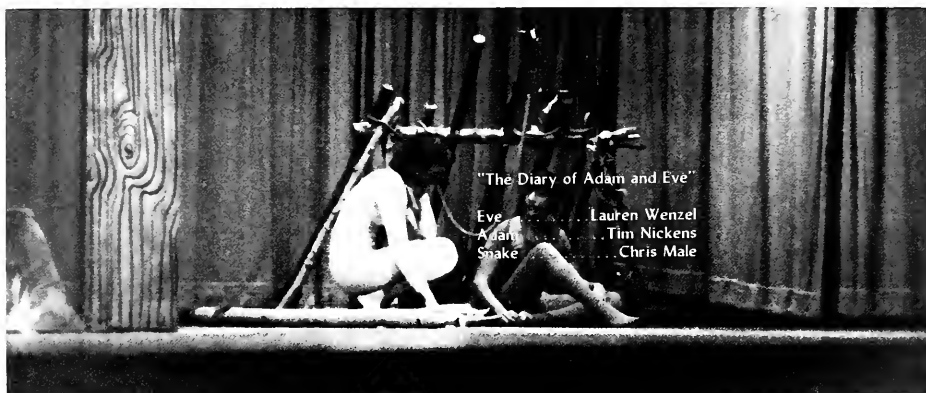

The first, "The Diary of Adam and Eve" is a satirical comedy written by Mark Twain. Eve is very much in love with Adam, but he wishes she would leave him alone and "stay with the other animals." In the end however, she wins his love.

The second play, called "The Brute," was written by Anton Chekhov. It concerns a young grieving widow and an unruly creditor who comes to collect a debt. When she insults him, he challenges her to a duel. She accepts the challenge, but he falls in love with her, and persuades her to marry him instead.

The third is the most famous of the three. It is the Shakespearean comedy "The Taming of the Shrew," in which a sharp-tongued "Shrew" is tamed by an equally stubborn rogue. She becomes sweet and obedient, proving her father and friends wrong, and winning a bet for her husband.

It is interesting to note that in two out of three battles, the women won. Will this be the outcome in the future?

Firework Display Livens 1979 Prom

On the night of April twenty-first a balloon decorated ballroom restlessly awaited the first strains of music. Thus began the 1979 Jr.-Sr. Prom. This year the prom, sporting the theme "Everytime I Think of You", started with a real "bang"! At approximately eight o'clock the main speaker blew out causing a display of electrical fireworks. This delayed the music until nine-thirty.

Coronation was held at ten with seniors Bruce StPierre and Lynn Sickles being crowned prom king and queen. Rodney Kinney and Michelle Kreeger were the juniors chosen couple.

Prom decorations included centerpieces of paper roses and balloon covered walls.

"I think everything went pretty well considering the sound system problem," commented junior Prom chairman, Polly Tritt. "Everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. I owe a lot of thanks to the many people who helped to make prom a success."

Having been a close friend of the late Senator Earnest Gruening, he emphasized the goals and contributions of this remarkable Alaskan.

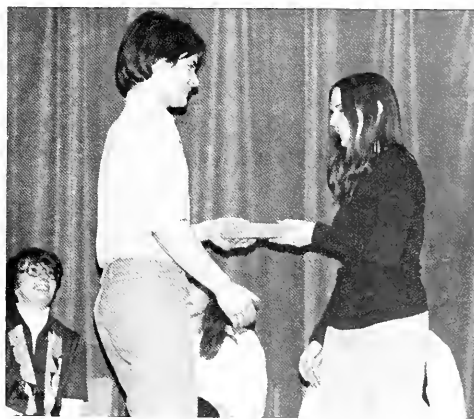

Counselor, Mr. Dick Kerbow was the coordinator for the Senior Awards. Special scholarships were presented to deserving seniors by representatives of several organizations as well as by school faculty and administration. Senior superlatives were presented at the end of the assembly. Rebecca Roberts and Charlotte Hammond received numerous scholarships, and college awards, and also several senior awards.

"Even though the traditional distribution of yearbooks did not take place at the assembly, everything went better than expected," commented Mrs. Judy McNall, yearbook advisor.

Babiche Helped By Five Junior High

For the fifth year in a row, the "Babiche" yearbook staff was strengthened by the addition of junior high members. Students Christina Foster, Hannah Kirk, Thomas Lochner, Paul Staso, and Mark Wenzel were chosen based on an application each wrote and an interview conducted by Adviser, Mrs. Judy "Peter" McNall.

They had a chance to find out what a yearbook is really like by creating the 1979 book. They learned how to create layouts, write copy and captions, cut pictures, glue them down, and finalize the pages by deadline time. They learned the true meaning of the word teamwork.

"Altogether they're a good group who learned fast. They had to! They were the first section done on the first deadline and throughout the year they each carried his or her share of the load," commented Mrs. McNall.

Newspaper Gives Gruening A Chance

First time ever! The Gruening Junior High got their say in the "Mustang Roundup" more this year than in the past. The school newspaper class decided to let five junior high students join the staff for a once-in-a-life-time chance to investigate some of the happenings that are going on in this school. This select group worked on "big scoops and small ones." The newspaper class took the place of the student's eighth grade English course. To be selected for the newspaper, the students had to write a letter of recommendation, and then were interviewed by the staff and sponsor Mrs. Judy McNall.

The junior high staff put together page 5 of the newspaper which was called the "Peanut Gallery." In order to fulfill the assignment given to them by the required deadline, the students found a scoop, wrote a story about it, got their interviews, and produced a final product that the entire school then could view through its publication.

Wrestling Gets A Boost From Group

At the start of the wrestling season about thirty-five girls joined Mat Maids. The group's year lasted from the start of wrestling season until the end of school. They not only supported the wrestlers by making signs and posters at wrestling matches but they also put on four bake sales, which really raked in the dough, according to Heidi Slack, club officer. The Mat Maids produced Gruening's first dance of the year, the Halloween

Dance. The adviser of the group was Mr. Hal Phillips. The Mat Maids voted Dorene Lorenz, president; Andrea Church, vice president; Heidi Slack, secretary; and Kyla Kent, treasurer.

"The Mat Maids supported the wrestling team well," commented Mr. Phillips. He also stated that "Dorene, as president, really held things together and was the fulcrum of the Mat Maids. The Mat Maids were a good bunch of cooperative girls."

Performing the role of a furious lion is actor Larry Sudder.

Peter Quince, played by Angie Daniel, studies the problems of their play.

The performers from the Junior High Drama Club's first play "Dora the Beautiful Dishwasher" are Larry Sudder, Denise Lattery, Chris Rees, Kaye Moeller, Dennis Miller, Janie Godwin, and Dorene Lorenz.

Dramatists Star In Two Productions

Sponsor for an active junior high Drama Club this year was Mrs. Sue Thrasher. She worked with over 20 students to perform two plays.

The first play was performed in November. The play was entitled "Dora, The Beautiful Dishwasher." It was a melodrama, and featured a cast of seven. It resembled all other old fashioned plays in which there is a beautiful heroine, this one played by top actress Kaye Moeller; a handsome hero, played by Chris Rees; and a wicked villain, portrayed by Dennis Miller. The play ends with the hero winning.

In March, a second play was performed. It was entitled "Pyramus and Thisby," an excerpt from Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." This play was put on by a cast of 11. It was about some tradesmen who do a play for the duke's wedding and it turns into a comical tragedy.

The Drama Club started their rehearsals six weeks before each production, and worked after school. They raised money for the plays by putting on bake sales. Based on Mrs. Thrasher's judgment, Denise Lattery, Kaye Moeller, and Mark Wenzel proved to be top performers.

Propositioning his girlfriend, played by Kaye Moeller, is actor Chris Rees.

Innocently planning a sinister plot are Dorene Lorenz and Denise Lattery.

Young Musicians Perform Frequently

The music department, under the direction of Mr. Darrel Daley and Mrs. Kathleen Jaynes, went through the year with six performances for the choir and five for the band.

The Junior High Choir, under the new direction of Mrs. Jaynes, had a tremendous turnout of 73 participants. Elected as officers were President Mark Wenzel, and Secretaries Sheri Mattson, and Cheryl Tatum.

The biggest concert of the year was the Junior High Choral Festival in which the choir was rated very highly. The choir ended the year with an awards assembly. Mrs. Jaynes was pleased with the large amount of parent and community support. She also said, "I'm really looking forward to two junior high choirs next year."

This year was a busy schedule for the Junior High Band which had 37 members. Appointed as president was Troy Swanson; elected vice president was Christina Foster, and elected secretary-treasurer was Dennis Miller.

Besides presenting three concerts, the band also played at two junior high pep assemblies. In March the band played at the Palmer Pioneer Home and the Salvation Army Home. In May the band performed a spring concert and one week later on May 11, the group ended the year with the Solo Ensemble Festival held at Dimond.

Society Induction, Activities Fill Year

The National Junior Honor Society inducted new members during the third quarter again this year. To be eligible for the NJHS, Gruening students must have at least a 3.5 grade average for two consecutive quarters. There were fifty-four members this year.

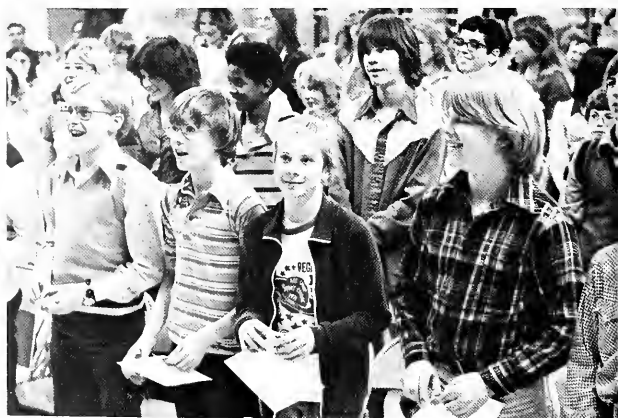

The president this year was Angie Daniel, vice president was Marci Fay, and Troy Wise was treasurer. Mr. John Ginsberg and Mr. Tom Huffer were the organization sponsors.

A problem that junior high students have had is not getting involved in school activities, but this year they did. Three eighth graders and one seventh grader won the school talent contest for pantomiming "KISS." Chris Kincheloe won the DAR award for his honor, service, courage, leadership, and patriotism. Many students got involved in the junior high spelling bee. Out of some thirty participants, Regina Flory placed first in the contest.

After induction, honor members pledge their loyalty to the organization.

Receiving her certificate during the honors assembly is Sarah Roberts.

"Congratulations New Members" says the National Junior Honor Society cake.

Getting down to the disco sound are Pat Selteneich and Elicia Hastings.

The DAR citizenship award was given to eighth grader Chris Kinchelee.

Winning the talent show with the song "Rock and Roll All Night" were KISS mimes Tom Lochner, Tom Wilson, Kevin Fiske, and Mike Hickey.

At the spelling bee's end, Regina Flory was the one left standing.

Juniors Prepare for Future Leadership

The class of '80 started out their year by winning first place in the Homecoming float competition for the second time. The arrival of class rings really boosted spirits also.

Money-raising activities began with the juniors selling candy, ice cream, baked goods, and they raffled a cassette tape player so that their goal, Prom, could be a success.

Elected class officers Terry Kruger, Susie Sprague, Kim Davis, and Ellen Ide set the example of leadership and organization. Much of this was due to the unfailing help and counseling of sponsors, Mrs. Una Kernodle and Mr. Andy Kirk.

The juniors were out to prove themselves and live up to their new "upperclassmen" title. To do this, they needed to bring all juniors together to form one strong group. This was attempted during Christmas vacation through a sledding party at Mr. Kirk's house. An "all junior" potluck was held at the beginning of the second semester. The spring months were highlighted by the Jr.-Sr. Prom which was held at the International Banquet House on April 21.

The juniors matured in many ways this past year. They now look forward to their many achievements as seniors of 1980.

Sophomores Outclass Everyone Else

The sophomore class began the year with a lot of enthusiasm. One main reason for this was the thrill that came with no longer being the youngest class of senior high. The class of '81's first major project of the year was the homecoming float competition. With "The Future" being their theme, the sophomores went right to work building their float. Officers were elected in the fall.

Candy cane sales were the big money-raising project for the class of '81 this year. The money was used to bolster their not-so-large bank account. Other projects were also planned.

"The sophomores have high potential with good leaders," commented Mr. Jim Taylor. "They need to get together though. The class as it stands is just drifting when it comes to group activities." Mr. Taylor, new to Chugiak this year, was the class' new sponsor. He concluded by saying, "Although the class has done very little this year, they have the talent to go far. The sophomore class is currently the largest class attending Chugiak High. This is one of the reasons for the problems of organizing group activities. As individuals, they have the talent."

Freshmen Try To Build, 'Wear' Spirit

Quickly organizing themselves, the class of 1982 began this year with the election of class officers. Besides facing the fact of a new year's beginning, the freshmen also came upon another realization. They were no longer the "big kids" of junior high. They were now the youngest of Chugiak High School. Because of this, they had to work that much harder to be noticed. During Homecoming, the freshmen worked long and hard to complete their float under the "B.C. era" theme. A class T-shirt sale was sponsored. The purpose was to get the class to not only show, but also to "wear" their spirit. A great effort was put out by the class of "82" in the annual canned food drive; many cans were donated. A class sledding party was planned to further bring the freshmen together.

The class also acquired a new sponsor. Mrs. Twyla Mundy provided the guidance which the young class needed. New officers were elected for second semester. They worked hard to ready their class for the coming year, and look forward to being the mighty sophomores of Chugiak High School.

Eighth Graders Produce Involved Year

The eighth grade started out with a booming 244 kids. Their parents were partly to blame for this. The class president was Brian Broderick. Elected as vice president was Zane Henning. Treasurer was Michelle Coleman and secretary was Janus Nauman.

The eighth grade was involved in two bake sales which were very profitable, according to Mrs. Sue Heitkamp, the eighth grade sponsor. Also the eighth grade was involved in the carnival. Everyone pitched in, helping to make their balloon popping booth a success. The class of '83 took on the major task of sponsoring the first dance of the year, the Halloween dance. They also received second place in the school competition for raising cans for the Honor Society.

The class held their meetings on selected Wednesdays during lunch. Mrs. Heitkamp felt, "The class did a pretty good job but fell behind at times because of lack of organization."

Big Group Begins Gruening Experience

Entering Gruening and outnumbering their older counterparts in the junior high, the seventh graders began the year by electing officers. Jon Dietrich was elected president, John Armstrong, vice president; Stephanie Wilson, secretary; Tod Robinson, treasurer; and Christy Kurtz, historian. The canned food drive in December found the youngest group coming in third place.

Elected in February as seventh grade princess was Roxanne Shelley and seventh grade prince was Tom Wilson. They were announced at the Valentines Dance along with other royalty: Mary Souve, Dawn Courtney, Billy Ray, and Joe Henning.

Mrs. Sue Rostin, class sponsor, felt the entire group "was especially helpful and worked well with each other." The group started to put together a scrapbook to include newspaper clippings and photographs to help them remember their first year at Chugiak/Gruening.

Renewed Gridders Exhibit Power

"You do what you need to do to win," remarked Coach Tom Huffer after a brilliant comeback over last season. It was a total team effort that did it for the Mustangs. With victories over Palmer, Kenai, and an upset over Dimond at Homecoming, the Mustangs came out of the season sporting a 3-4 record.

"We had to contend with a losing attitude and a lack of intensity," continued Coach Huffer, "but the Mustangs came into their own during the latter half of the season."

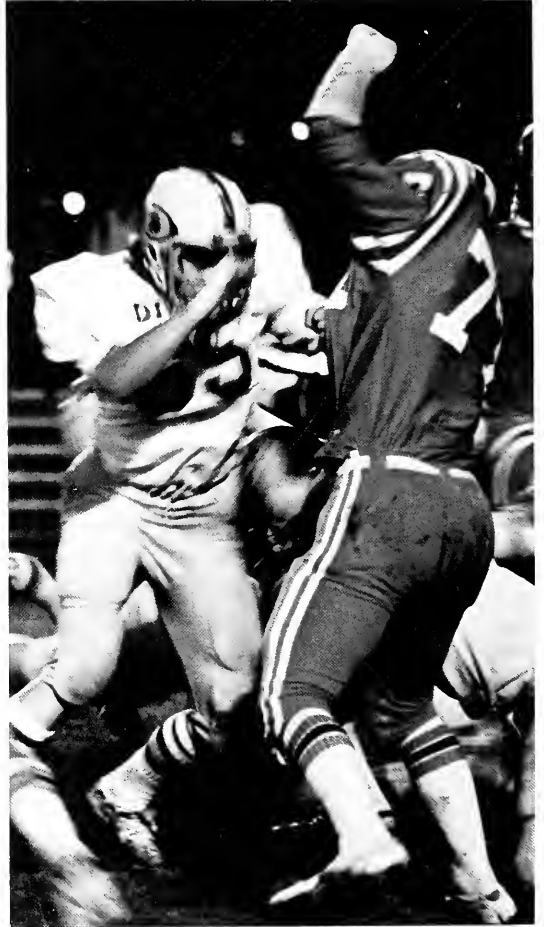

Besides an outstanding performance by the whole team, Coach Huffer praised the effort he got from his seniors on the squad. "I can't say enough for the performance I got from Co-Captains Jamie Jones and Dave Garganta. Also I can't say enough for my coaching staff. Larry Henry and Dean Vogt did a great job all year and were there whenever they were needed. The fans who supported us all the way were an especially great boost."

As for the outlook for next year... watch out! If the Mustangs can keep the winning attitude and dedicated training, they will follow their locker room quote of "Three is great in '78, but ten is fine in '79."

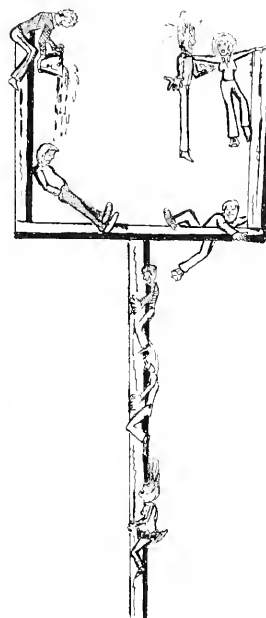

"All it takes is a little extra to get the ball," says senior Jamie Jones.

Whoever said football is not a very rough sport is proved wrong by Jack Allen.

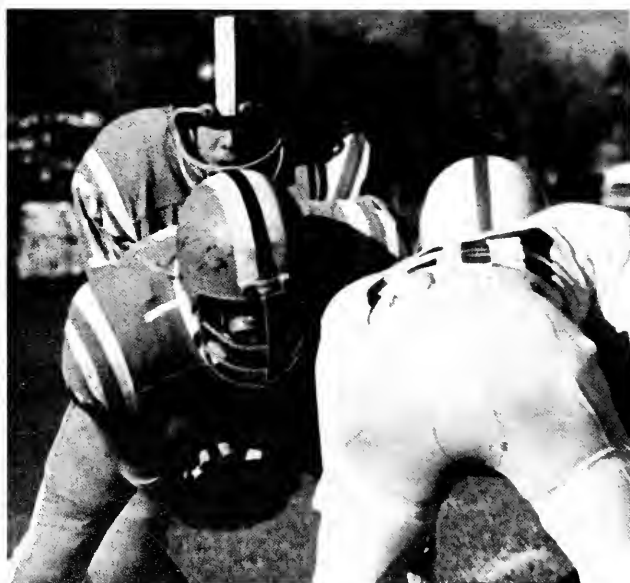

After scoring a game winning touchdown, fullback Dave Garganta shows his teammates what a victory dance is Putting a stop to a helpless Palmer Moose are the spirited Mustangs, Sophomore Gary Fielder and Senior Jim Hahn.

Power Offense Boosts Junior Varsity

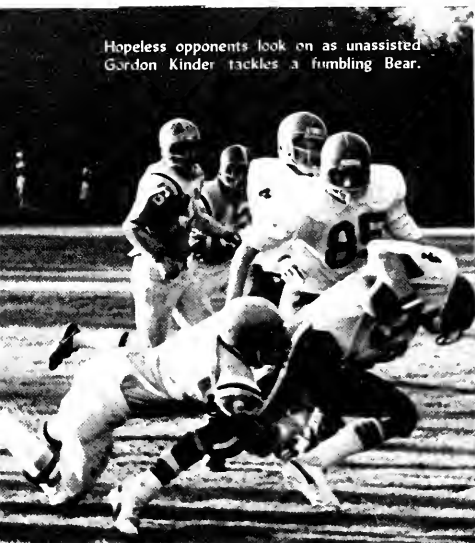

"Our offensive unit was the best ever at CHS. We passed for nearly 1,000 yards in 6 games and rushed for over 400 yards. The problem was that our defense was nearly as weak as our offense was strong," Coach Darrel White faced the problems and credited the virtues of the J.V. team.

The team was strong yet talent needed for defensive measures was not there. They had the best talent in the league on offense as shown by Kirby Holtman who outpassed everyone in the league, totaling 871 yards. Morgan Simpson caught 8 touchdown passes. The whole team worked together to strengthen their fortress.

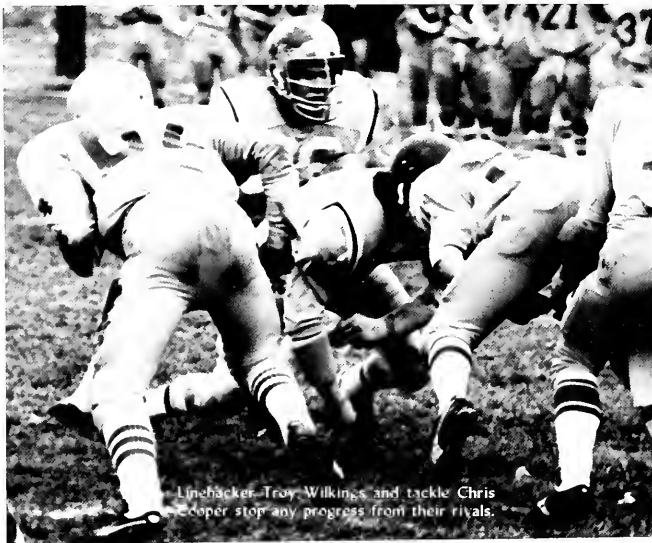

To prove they were good, they had to win, and win they did. They beat Wasilla, who ended their season tying for first. Wasilla was defeated only once and the honor goes to the Mustangs.

Losses were attributed to their lacking defense against a passing offense. Gordon Kinder, however, contributed his part to defense, by his 60 unassisted tackles and 30 assisted.

"Overall the Chugiak Mustangs' J.V. Football team was super. They performed to the best of their ability all season, exceeding those limits they thought unsurpassable. They put their best foot forward," commented a proud Coach White.

Hopeless opponents look on as unassisted Gordon Kinder tackles a fumbling Bear.

X-C Team Makes More Improvements

"Our cross country teams have gotten better and better over the past few seasons," stated Coach Andy Kirk.

The season started off two weeks before school began, giving time for many improvements. Meg Penisten was a standout in Regionals, losing out for a first place by 1.7 seconds, and taking second. Tom Lane was the top runner for the boys' varsity team. The most improved over last year were Colleen Peissig and Bill Gould.

Coaches Andy Kirk and Renee Henry worked closely together to encourage and inspire the team to top performances, despite Coach Henry's carrying of the youngest runner on the team.

"The athletes have shown a lot of improvements and competed well against teams from in town and also out of the region," commented Coach Henry.

The team agreed the training and practices were fun because they spent overtime getting to know each other better, having team parties and picnics. Rewards came at the end of the season when seven girls and seven boys lettered at the annual cross country banquet.

Varsity Netters Reach Primary Goals

"My main goal this season was to make Chugiak High School aware of its varsity volleyball team. I also wanted the girls to place higher in regionals than last year's sixth position," stated Coach Cilla Robbins, a newcomer this year to CHS and Mustang coaching.

The attainment of her chief goals took long hours of practice and teamwork. To make Chugiak appreciative of the team, an assembly was called where the girls played against a team of guys lead by Coach Dick Green.

The team rose in their placement from sixth to fourth place. They beat Palmer, Vadez, Barrow, Service, and West. Consisting of only seven players, the team effort was a valuable asset. No one player was the standout; total team effort contributed to the overall success. Six players participated at one time, leaving only one substitute. "Optimism within the team increased their motivation to win," added Coach Robbins. "Thus, team effort was the main factor in the final placement of the varsity squad."

With all seriousness, Coach Robbins advises the team during a time out.

J.V., Ninth Grade Girls Improve Skills

"They improved their skills immensely compared to last year," said Coach Kathy Maloney.

Even though the Junior Varsity was defeated many times, they won their last game against East. Outstanding players were co-captains Sue Just and Kim Davis. According to Coach Maloney, they kept the team going and always encouraged the players. The most improved player from the beginning of the season to end was Kim Childs.

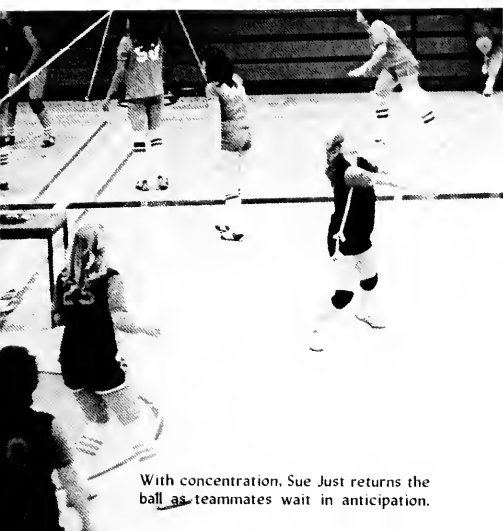

Although the freshman team didn't participate in the first few games because of a lack of people, they refined their skills through competing with the junior varsity team. After accumulating six players, the freshman team played one game after another without rest. They were loyal to the team making sure to be at every practice and game. Coming in the middle of the season, Steve Novelli coached the freshman team.

"They are good, healthy competitors and were easy to coach," stated Coach Novelli.

Eager Gymnasts Show Improvement

"I just can't say how proud I am of my girls after their performance this season," remarked Coach Karen Roskoff. "There was a tremendous amount of enthusiasm among the girls which I feel helped overcome some of our obstacles."

The Mustangs had to contend with problems right from the start of the season. "I feel the biggest problem we had to contend with was the lack of experience and our team size. We did exceptionally well matching points against other teams, but it was their depth that hurt us most." Another problem for the Mustangs was the injuries. "It seemed by every meet there would be one or two girls hobbling around."

Coach Roskoff summed up the season as a learning period. "We had a lot of young girls who needed the exposure this year. Coach Graybill and I expect a strong team for next year as well as a contender. We proved this year that we could, next year we will!"

With total determination showing on her face is Barb Wilson.

Boys' Swim Team Second In Region

"This was a year to prove, not only to ourselves but to the district and the students, that Chugiak is not only building but will soon be the best," stated Coach Dick Green.

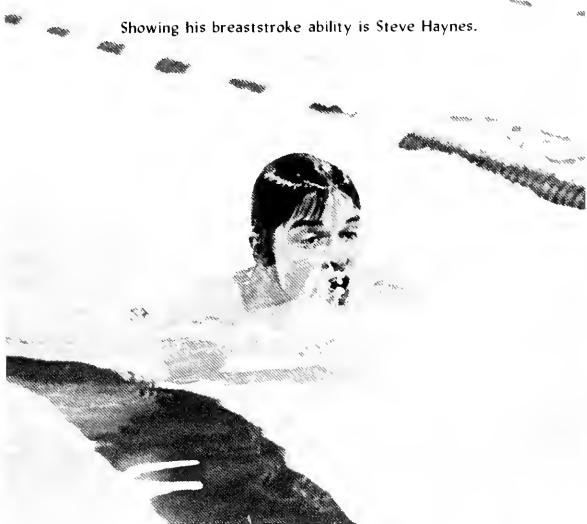

Sophomore John Lindquist and Senior Tom Newman were the boys' state competitors, qualifying for state by taking first in Regional events. Newman took first in the one hundred yard and the two hundred yard freestyle at the Region IV Swim Meet. He also swept the one hundred yard freestyle event at the State meet in Fairbanks, placing second in the two hundred. Lindquist outstretched everyone in the five hundred yard freestyle during the Regional meet and placed fourth in the State meet.

Sophomore Sabrina Vick and freshman Deb Ribelin were the girls' top finalists in the Region meet. Vick placed fourth in the two hundred yard individual medley. Ribelin finished third place in the one hundred yard breaststroke.

In the Regional meet the boys powered to a near win, missing by $3\frac{1}{2}$ points. The four hundred freestyle relay decided the regional champs, as West defeated the Mustangs by 1.5 seconds. The boys' team had an 8-2 win/loss record for the season and the girls' team was 2-8.

Varsity Hockey Team Builds Potential

"It was definitely a building year," stated Coach Don Bernard, "We made more improvements than we expected but won fewer games. Losing last year's seniors was hard for us."

The Mustang hockey team suffered the loss of three to injuries, which didn't help the generally slow season. The seven returning lettermen were Captains Bryan Hulse and Chris Kinney, Brad Lepper, Gene Carlson, David Hamilton and Todd Brannon. Voted most valuable player was Brad Lepper, with Richard Phillips being most improved. The Donny Uher Memorial Sportsmanship award was given to Jim Magnuson and Kirby Holtman.

Assistant coach Paul Brauneis helped the team out with training in physical conditioning and drills. Coach Bernard stated, "I was disappointed with the lack of community support. Basically the people that came were parents and alumni. I'm pleased to see the youth hockey program surfacing in the school. We have more potential than any high school in the district."

"If you looked at our record you would not find the whole story to our season," remarked Coach Rick Sundt. "Our season started out slow with the participation and enthusiasm not there. But towards the end of the season the attitude improved and the team refused to quit.

"A J.V. program is to build a varsity team. At the beginning of the season I did not have a player that could last a game in the varsity league, mostly because of their skating ability. Now with the improvements during the season, there isn't a player I wouldn't give a shot at the varsity mainly because of their big hearts.

"It's hard to predict the outlook for next year, but with the same leadership and attitude, we will be contenders," concluded Sundt.

Young Team Strives for Good Season

"I think we had a very young team that worked excessively hard at the beginning of the season. We were extremely competitive throughout the season but lacking the experience to push it over the top," stated Coach Terry Jorgensen.

According to Coach Jorgensen this season was successful and he is optimistic about next year especially if the players make a commitment to a full-year program.

The most outstanding basketball player on the team was Junior David Kelley. The Most Improved Player was Junior Neil Bjornstad. Also the youngest player on the team was sophomore Rob Merriours. The only two returning lettermen were Senior Ray Haken and Junior David Kelley.

The team defeated Wasilla twice, Palmer, and Cordova. They went into overtime against West and East High Schools, both seen as highlights of the season. The boys' basketball team finished with a 4-16 win/loss record.

Varsity Squad Has Talent, Not Height

"The Girls' Varsity showed good talent, but fell short in height. Not exceeding five feet, ten inches, they had it tough at rebounds and jump balls," commented Coach Don Sanders.

Starting the season on October 20, and ending it February 15, they played a total of 19 games, winning 6 and losing 13. At tryouts, 12 girls were chosen from a field of 25, to represent Chugiak as the varsity basketball team.

Representing the team as captains were senior

Debbie Kane and junior Nola Courtney. Scoring a total of 260 points on the season with an average of 16 points a game, Cheryl Curtis was named the team's most valuable player. Chosen the most improved player was Kelly Kirk. "Basketball is basically a game in which tall players have the advantage. We had no tall players and although we did an excellent job of playing the game to offset this fact, we still lost games to the taller teams," concluded Coach Sanders.

Younger Ball Handlers Show Promise

The J.V. Boys' Basketball Team started on November 6, practicing two hours a day. With an initial large turnout of close to 30, they completed the season with only 10. Playing 18 games during a four-month season, they earned a record of 5-13.

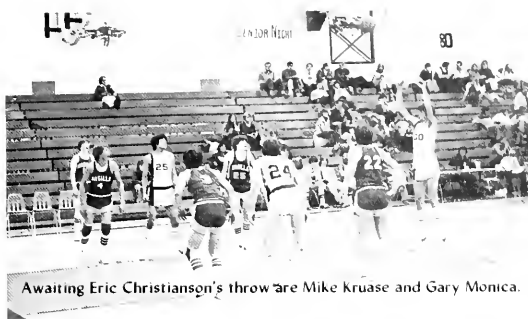

"I've seen a lot of improvement in every player. I'm especially pleased with the way the team played since Christmas. We got off to a slow start, but got better and better as time has passed," pointed out Coach Ken Ziaghan.

The Freshman Boys' Basketball Team started their season on November 2, 1978. The first practice resulted in a turnout of only 6 freshman. At the end of the season the team settled in with 8 dedicated players. Practicing after school for 90 minutes each day, they came up with three of the best freshman in the state and a season record of 9 and 7.

"They are a young group of people who will play a lot of varsity ball in the years to come. Chugiak will have a good future if these players continue on," commented Coach John Jordet.

J.V., Freshmen Build up Their Skills

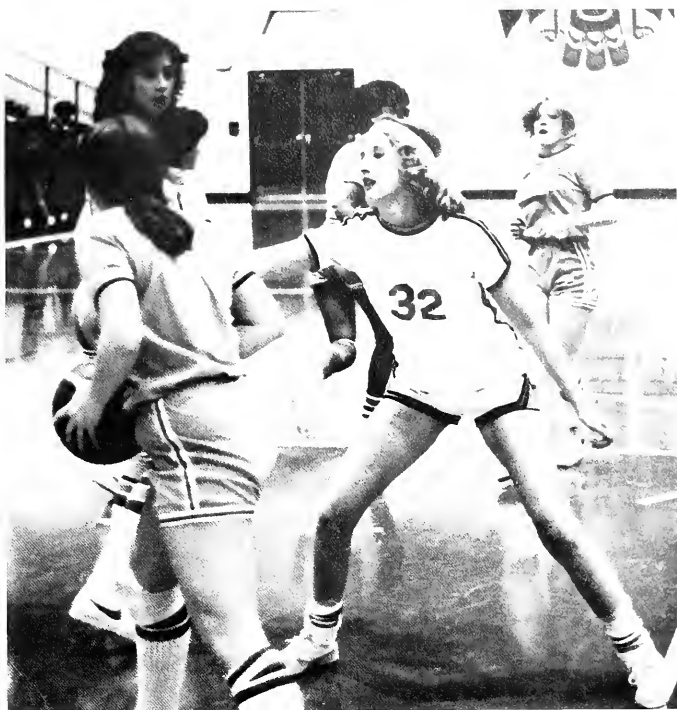

"This season has been enjoyable and I am looking for these girls to do a fine job for Chugiak High School in the years to come," commented Robert Thoroman, the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball Coach. He feels that the team built skills such as dribbling, passing, and good shooting for the future. His Most Outstanding Players were Katrina Lange and Kelly Kirk.

According to Mr. Dean Vogt, the Freshman Girls' Basketball Coach, the players worked hard this year and showed great success with their skills. Often during the season he stressed, "Kids today like the idea of being an athlete or a star but a lot of times they don't want to put the work into it that you need to be good. When you play a sport, it has to mean more to you than anything else." He felt the most outstanding freshmen players were Jana Jacobs, Sammy Neuman, and Melody Hillborn.

Both coaches agree that improving skills for the varsity team is their main goal. They basically felt that they achieved this target.

Skiers End With 'Best Ever' Season

"The team was the best and most exciting one that I've ever worked with," commented Cross-Country Ski Coach, Mr. Dave Christy. Twenty-three skiers finished the four-month season, which ended in February. "This season was the best ever for both the men and the women due to outstanding spirit and overall team cooperation," added Assistant Coach Mr. Dean Pederson. Outstanding skiers, according to Christy and Pederson, were Arnam Moody, Andy Cochrane, Kistal

Baker, Meg Penisten, and freshman Glen Smith. The captains were BC Roberts and Dave Kindred, who both showed team leadership.

In the Region/State meet, the girls' squad placed fourth in relays and fifth individually, with the boys placing sixth in both categories.

Even though the team did well, both Coaches Christy and Pederson stressed individual training this summer in hopes of strengthening the team for next year's season.

With much effort, Don Homan leads the way as he climbs the steep hill.

Mustang skiers Ruth Brion, Meg Penisten, and Andy Cochran take time to relax before they race at Kincaid.

Wrestlers Achieve Undefeated Season

"Great!" remarked Coach Darrel White after the Mustang wrestlers chalked up their first undefeated season. "I am really proud of the whole team," continued Coach White. "They were not expected to do as well as they did." The Mustangs ended their season with a remarkable 22-0-1 record, the only blemish was a tie with defending State Champions, West Valley.

"I feel this was my most enjoyable season as a coach. I am satisfied with the performance I got from the whole team. The attitude, spirit, and dedication were insurmountable."

"They were a young team who lacked in experience, but the leadership the team got from the upperclassmen and especially from Senior Co-Captains John Wilber and Steve LaRue always seemed to put it together when needed.

Though the Mustangs had some problems in the Region 4 Tournament, 98 pounder Robin MacAlpine and 132 pounder John Wilber placed first in both Regionals and State. Heavy Weight Jed Henning also placed first in Regionals and second in the State competition.

As for the outlook for next year, the Mustangs have 12 returning lettermen who are all experienced in tournament wrestling. "The only goal for us next year is to win the Region 4 Title, and we will give it our best shot."

Riflery Team Shoots Among The Top

"The Riflery Team this year proved itself among the best. We were the only school to beat Bartlett, who has been undefeated for the past three years," commented Coach Ed Bradley.

In the 35th Annual Junior National Sectional Championships, the team placed two members in the top six among 70 individuals. Sharon Hickey placed first and Chris Hammond took fifth. John Farthing was top shooter, in ROTC individuals.

The ROTC "swabbies" were also among the winners. John Farthing, Ray Bryant, Dwayne Goche and Mark Cruthers cooperatively took second place.

"Chugiak, thanks to the Eagle River Recreation Board's support, has come a heck of a long way. I expect to see the best rifle team arise from Chugiak within the next two or three years", concluded Sgt. Bradley.

Cheerleaders Promote Spirit In School

Cheerleading tryouts were held in October, with forty girls hoping to become full-fledged hockey, basketball, or wrestling cheerleaders. Squads encouraged enthusiasm at games, assemblies, and in their participation in school activities.

The football cheerleading squad was successful in cheering the team on to a Homecoming victory against Dimond. The Stadium stands were filled with fans, many of whom rode the pep busses.

The wrestling cheerleaders promoted a winning spirit among the crowds and once again victory reigned over the Mustang Team.

The hockey squad cheered under the guidance of Mrs. "Mac" Owen. "They worked long practices and it paid off when we almost beat East in the first tournament game," she commented.

Problems arose among the basketball yell leaders with inter-squad squabbles. They started the season with two squads of four cheerleaders under their sponsor, Mrs. Florence Pearson, and ended with one squad. Nevertheless they were recognized as having helped the team in raising morale.

Over all "the cheerleaders, during the middle of the year worked against tremendous odds trying to liven up dead crowds," concluded Mrs. Owen, Pep Club sponsor.

Track Team Passes Half Way Mark

"This year's track team, consisting of 23 girls and 40 guys, has come a long way. It is the first time in a long time in track that we have passed a 50% winning season," commented Coach Andy Kirk. Rene' Henry, John Jordet, Art Denning, Darrel White, Andy Kirk and Ken Kirk all contributed their coaching expertise.

Under the leadership of captains Polly Tritt and Cheryl Curtis, the girls finished with a seven win-seven loss season. "I'm really proud of them all. They worked very hard," said Coach Henry.

Cheryl Curtis proved her outstanding ability when she achieved four firsts in two meets.

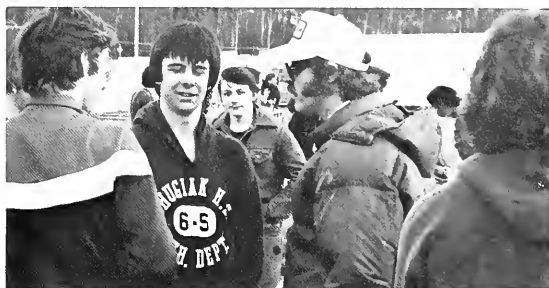

Co-captains Darcy Swavely, Jerome Durr, and Chris Parker led the boys to an eight win-six loss season. Jerome Durr was recognized as an outstanding all-around trackster, while Joe Lochner, Pat Garrity, and David Lester were also recognized.

"I'm very pleased with the record of this year's team, and since they're young, I expect even better next year," concluded Coach Kirk.

Tennis Team Holds Future Potential

"The team was relatively young and inexperienced this year, but we do have the potential to be a power in tennis within the next few years. What we really need is to extend the tennis season throughout the summer so the players could gain experience," commented Coach Mac Owen.

The fifteen member tennis team was led by captains Chris Kinney and Brad Lepper. The most outstanding singles player was Bruce St. Pierre. Mixed doubles brother and sister team Barb and Brad Lepper were the most outstanding doubles.

Most improved players were Senior Cathy Hinkle and Freshman Mike Haynes. Barb Lepper and Kevin Miller were chosen as most valuable.

According to Coach Owens, the Junior Varsity doesn't participate in the matches because the teams in the Anchorage School District haven't developed Junior Varsity teams.

"The team will improve with practice and more players will be able to practice with the installment of the proposed tennis courts for 1980," concludes Coach Dean Pederson.

Soccer Delivers Gruening Victories

For its first year as a junior high sport, soccer had a good turnout of 53 participants. There were 44 boys and 9 girls who showed up at the first meeting. The boys' team decreased to 24. However, the nine girls stuck with it to the end of the season, showing their strong desire for victory. They proved it with a record of 3 wins, 2 losses, and 0 ties, compared to the boys' stats of 1 win, 3 losses and 1 tie.

For the boys, Steve Anderson, Brian Broderick, and David Choate acted as captains. The boys had a problem on the way to their first game.

Their bus broke down, and the game had to be replayed at a later date.

The girls' captain was Angela Harris, who with the help of the other girls, led the Colts to a third place in the Anchorage District. Their best game was against Hanshew, where they won 4-1, with Theresa Fletcher scoring three goals to provide a win for the girls and a hat trick for herself. "They were a good bunch of kids who really tried hard and improved immensely throughout the season," commented Coaches Gene Morgan, Bill O'Thuse, and Colny Tucker.

Colt Output Brings Favorable Season

The junior high volleyball team appeared out of nowhere after the summer vacation. The season started the second day of school with seven eighth graders and eight seventh graders. Three volleyball players returned from last year's team, Traci Bryant, Kati King, and Hannah Kirk. Paula Brannon was the most improved eighth grader and Kelsey Hansen was the most improved seventh grader. Hannah Kirk was elected captain.

This season had one of the best records ever, with five wins and three losses. Gruening trompled Romig and Wendler, the two best teams in the district. The team once made a big comeback from a 3-9 score leaving Central behind with no additional points. Mr. Denning explained the good results by saying, "This is the best season we've ever had because the practices had less standing around." The total season lasted six weeks.

Teamwork Pays For Cross Country

The junior high cross-country team brought forth many wins. The season started September 1 and ended on October 11 with 40 runners completing the entire season. There were five meets plus the championship. The two girls' teams placed first eight times, while the two boys' teams managed to earn a first place once.

Coach Gene Morgan felt that their best meet was against Clark and Central because Gruening placed first and the team put all they had into it. The cross-country coaches for this year were Mrs. Colny Tucker (formerly known as Miss Welsh) and Coach Morgan. They felt that this season's cross-country team had improved greatly since last year, with most improved runner as Theresa Fletcher, and most inspirational athletes as Tim Roberts and Dennis Miller.

Near the end of the season, Coach Morgan was asked how he felt about the team. "This year's cross-country team is a good one. I like to have good teams come out of the junior high and be as active in school sports throughout the rest of high school. I hope next year to have an equally good team to send on.

Basketball Team Displays Enthusiasm

This year's junior high boys' basketball team had a lot of seventh grade talent. Making up this talent were team members Kevin White, David Choate, Clint Rodgers, and Tracy Allison. Along with these seventh graders were eighth graders Ron McKay, Jon Mosier, Mark Thayer, Richard Ealem, Todd Voth, and Eric Thompson. The season started in early October with about 50 athletes, but by the end there were only 28.

The competition began with two pre-season games. Their first game against Hanshew was lost by one point with a final score 37-36. Their best game was against Mears, where they won 37-32. Coach John Ginsburg commented on his team: "This is a good team with a lot of effort and I hope the seventh graders on the team go out next year and do the best they can." The team ended the season with one win, five losses.

Colt Dribblers Polish Season Record

The Gruening girls' basketball team was coached by Cyndi Martin this year. They won one game. It was an overtime against the Clark Falcons by a score of 27 to 25. The season started October 12 and ended December 12, with the team practicing every day possible. They worked mainly on perfecting basic skills.

There were six girls who returned from last year's team: Jill Wanamaker, Carla Palmer, Michelle Moore, Marcie Fay, Kim Headle, and Christina Foster. The most improved player was Karin Rasmussen. The team captains were Theresa Fletcher and Christina Foster. The most valuable player was Jill Wanamaker.

Mrs. Martin commented, "The girls' team this year exhibited excellent play throughout the season. There is no doubt in my mind that no basketball team, girls' or boys', could have as much spirit as the girls' basketball team at Gruening Junior High."

Colt Hockey Squad Plays Like Team

The junior high hockey team started out this year with sixteen players; all sixteen stayed on the team for the entire season. They had practices every night after school. Almost all of their games were held at Ben Boeke Ice Arena.

Coach Bill O'Thuse said that their best game was against Hanshew because that team was supposed to be a top one. They were expecting a close game but because of Gruening's great defense, "We knocked them dead by a score of 7-0."

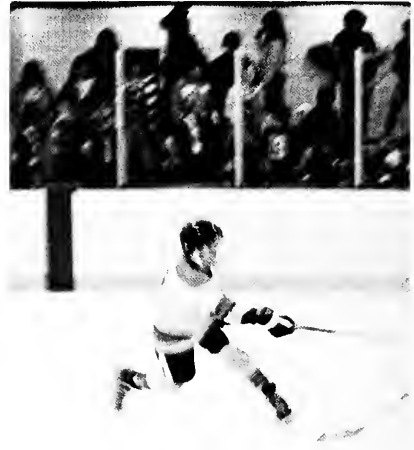

Eighth grader Randy Wild made the most goals this season. Coach O'Thuse said that Jeff Moench provided the most assistance on the team. Most valuable player was Randy Wild. Voted most improved was Ted Yashinkie.

Coach O'Thuse stated that, "This is the best junior high team I've coached. They play like a team and that's what counts!" The season ended with a record of 6-2, third place in the district, and an awards assembly held in March.

Assistant Coaches Support Gymnasts

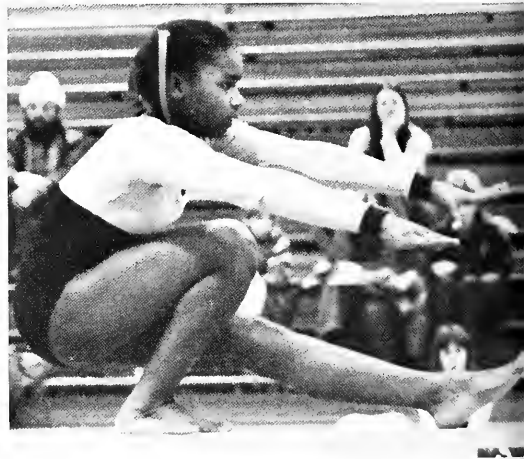

On January 23, Gruening Junior High's gymnastics team began another season. Head Coach Mrs. Cyndy Martin was joined by Mr. Bill Webb and Mrs. Martha Graybeal. This was the first year the gymnastics team was able to have assistant coaches. A total of thirty-eight girls pulled through the season, which ended March 22. One of their great accomplishments was a victory over Clark Junior High in a tri-meet. They also beat Central doing their best on the floor exercises.

Best performer on the parallel bars was Kutrina Kussik; on the vault, Denise Lattery; and Chrissy Batten on the balance beam. Chrissy was also chosen as best all-around eighth grader. Chosen for best all-around seventh grader was Sonya Welch. The most improved eighth grader was Jenny Martin, most improved seventh grader, Kathy Benis.

Coach Martin commented, "We have vastly improved as a team, and as individuals because of the new help from assistant coaches."

Younger Wrestlers Show Improvement

The junior high wrestling team started out the season on January 2 with a booming 30 participants. Acting as head coach was Mr. Hal Phillips, and assisting him were Terry Simpson and Walter Thomas. The team started by working hard at practices and it paid off for them. They won their first two pre-season matches and ended the season with a 4-3-1 win/loss record.

After the regular season, the team was invited to participate in a district-wide tournament. They went determined to do their best. The team altogether placed fourth. There were three finalists from Gruening. Tim Hill took second; Randy Vanderwood, first; and Frank Imhof, first. Others who received third place at the tournament were Greg Broderick, Brian Broderick, Tim Roberts, and Matt Tanner. Voted most valuable wrestler was Frank Imhof. Randy Vanderwood was noted for being most improved, and Brian and Greg Borderick were said to be most inspirational.

"The season was filled with close matches, but injuries and sickness plagued us at times. Over all, it was a fine squad that showed lots of improvement," commented Coach Phillips.

As his muscles bulge as if to pop, eighth grade wrestler Tim Roberts goes for a two point reversal, and maybe even a pin.

Cheerleaders Provide Team Inspiration

At the start of the year, thirty-seven girls tried out for the twelve cheerleading positions available. They were chosen on the basis of their citizenship, attitude, and cheering ability. The few chosen, three seventh and nine eighth graders, worked hard practically every day. Returning from last year's squads were Peggy White, Paula Brannon, and Debbie Gardino who showed good leadership for the new girls. They actively supported basketball, wrestling, and hockey teams.

The athletes on the teams liked the girls' uniforms but would rather have them be "three inches shorter," commented one athlete.

The master minds behind the cheerleading scene were Math Teacher Kathy Magee and Choir Teacher Kathie Jaynes. "The cheerleaders sponsored a pep bus and two pep assemblies. They made posters, signs, and always smiled," commented one of the advisers. "They worked and show a great potential for the upcoming years."

Junior High Skiers Pace Future Goals

When Cross Country Skiing began in January, many skiers participated. Coaches Gene Morgan and Colny Tucker thought that of these skiers, two should be noted for their skiing ability: Dennis Miller and Brian Tetpon. They placed very highly throughout the season. From January 2 through February 28 the team participated in four meets plus the District Championships.

The ski team, consisting of about 18 skiers, placed second and third many times. Coaches

Morgan and Tucker commented on their group's progress: "This year's team came in with a lot of valuable experience and talent. We wish that more girls would have joined, especially eighth grade girls. In fact, only one eighth grade girl, Judy Hanks, stayed on the team the whole season. We liked coaching the team and we feel everyone did very well. The seventh graders who were on the team this year will hopefully be involved next year in skiing and use what they learned!"

Rifle Members Prove To Be Talented

This year junior high riflery began in late September with about 20 participants, but then as the season continued, the total dropped to 10. Considered by Coaches Jack Fiske and Bill Peissig as the highest scorer of the year was Mike Hickey, an eighth grader for the Gruening team. Out of a total of five meets, Gruening finished the season with three wins, and two losses, scoring very highly throughout the season.

As rifle members, the participants learned gun safety and shooting techniques. Coaches Fiske and Peissig commented on their team's effort: "We had a lot of good shooters and sharp shooters this year. We liked working with all of these guys and we hope everybody got something out of this course. We wish that more junior high students would get involved next year and participate in riflery."

Swimmers Prove To Be 'Best Ever'

The Junior High Swim Team, headed by Coach Dick Green with the help of Robb Boyer and Colny Tucker, showed other schools that they meant business. This year they went through the season doing their best as their record proved. The boys wound up with 5 wins and 1 loss. The girls certainly proved themselves as they rounded out the season with an undefeated record of 6 wins and 0 losses. Green felt that for the boys the toughest meet was against Wendler, where they won 85-81. The best and toughest meet for the girls was against Wendler where they won 87-81. Named most inspirational on the team were Keith Livingway and Paula Brannon.

Divers played a big part in the swim meets. They were coached by Mr. Robb Boyer with freshman Danny Legg assisting. Shrinking in number from 23 to 8, Boyer was still impressed with the performance of all the divers. Coach Green commented, "This was the best all-around junior high team in Greuning history.

Coming out for the mile run is seventh grade members Theresa Fletcher, Lisa Luchterhand, Jim Daniel, and John Stahl, who all did well in distance.

Junior High Athletics Hit The Tracks

"When the track season began on April 9, we had an abundance of 110-120 people. In every event we had athletes who would work hard to get into that number one position," commented Coach Gene Morgan, one of the junior high track mentors. Some athletes who placed first many times this season were Frank Imhof-shot, Richard Ealem-discus and high jump, Randy Wild and Dale Schutt-mile run, and Paul Staso who placed high in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and went undefeated in the 80 yard hurdles.

Other coaches for the team this year were Colny Tucker, Cyndi Martin, and William Webb. "The seventh grade girls team put out more effort than ever this year and with their talent they helped us win two of our meets. All the relay teams did very well in competition," Morgan added. Out of a total of five meets Gruening earned 3 wins and 2 losses. A few eighth grade girl tracksters who deserve to be mentioned are Hannah Kirk, our best hurdler, Jennifer Martin, Dennise Lattery, and Marci Fay.

The following parents would like to wish their Senior Sons or Daughters the very best of luck for all the years to come and to congratulate them on their achievements thus far.

To

Trena Lynn Arrington
With love and pride. Mom and Dad.

James Catlin
At this moment we think back twelve years to the day we first put you on the school bus, happy and excited as well as a little apprehensive. As you now step out of high school into your adult life, we wish you the same happiness, excitement and enthusiasm you felt then—only this time with the knowledge and maturity you've gained through the years. We wish all of life's best to a very special son. Love, Mom and Dad.

Linnea Crosby
Congratulations. We are very proud of you! God bless and may he walk through the future with you. Love, Mom, Dad, Randy, and Bonnie.

Tod Deardorff
Congratulations on an outstanding accomplishment. Love Mom and Dad.

Sandra Dickinson
Congratulations on a job well done and our very best wishes for a full and eventful future. Mom, Dad, Barb, Art, and Matt.

Dave Garganta
Congratulations. Best of luck in all you do. Love, Mom, Dad, and Mike.

Charlotte Hammond
We are very proud of you Charly. Remember life is a bowl of cherries—and living is licking the pits. Der, Ann, Kevin, and the four footers.

Deborah Diana Hartley
Congratulations and good wishes toward your college future! Your special effort and success in career, training made all of us feel very good. Mr. and Mrs. WM. J. Diedrich.

Catherine L. Hinkle
Congratulations on a job well done. I am very proud of you. Your Father.

Dallene Huckaby
Congratulations. With love from Mom, Dad, and Nana.

Colleen Kelley
Congratulations! You've earned it! your grades were great. We don't know how you did it—in fact we don't know how we did it. This little insert is our way of letting you know we're proud of you. Love, Me and Father Bud.

Russ LeFaucheur
Congratulations Son! We are so proud of your accomplishments. Completing E.M.T. training, becoming a veterinarian assistant, holding a steady job and completing your schooling. Most of all we are proud that you are our son. Mom and Elbert.

Jackie Long
You have made us very proud, princess. Mom and Dad.

Raylene A. Monroe

Set your goals, trust in God and all will be gained with his help. Dad would have been very proud of you.
Much love, Mom.

Carol Lynn Neils

Love and best wishes always. We are proud of you. Mom and Dad.

Tom Newman

Congratulations and best wishes. Stell, Ginger, and Nancy Newman.

Cathleen Phillips

Colleen Phillips

Congratulations with love and pride for two special daughters.

Kenneth Pippin

Congratulations Ken, you made it and we are so proud of you. Good luck and much happiness in your future. Love, Mom, Dad, Larry, and Cheryl.

Lucy Powell

Wow! Hurray! I love you heaps!

Daddio.

BC Roberts

Congratulations. As you work for them may the blessings of life come your way. Our love and best wishes. Mom, Rebecca, Tim, Sarah, Rhoda, and Rachel.

Jacqueline Roberts

Congratulations. God bless you. Love, Mom, Dad, and David.

Rebecca Roberts

Our best wishes for the many blessings of life to come your way as you earn them. Congratulations and lots of love. Mom, BC, Tim, Sarah, Rhoda, and Rachel.

Lynn Sickles

Congratulations, you have already shown great ability in reaching goals. Go on seeking God's guidance in all you do. Luke 11:9. Dad, Mom, Loren, Karen, and Kathryn.

Marilyn Stanley

Congratulations and best of luck in the future. We are very proud of you and love you very much. Dad and Mom.

Kevin Stewart

Congratulations and best of luck always. Mom, Dad, and Pat.

Uncle Kevin- You Made it! Jason.

Bruce St. Pierre

"To a wild and crazy guy." The best of everything! Love Rich, Mom, Rene, Pam, Debi, and Walt.

Barry Stratton

We're very proud of you, Barry, and wish you only the best for the future. Love, Mom, Dad, brother Mike, and Lady.

Robin M. Taylor

May you meet all challenges with a smile and never falter down life's long mile. Florence J. Parrish.

Jamee Kay Townes

From all of us to you- a special thanks for being the girl you are. Mom, Dad, Grampa, Jack, Roberta, and Terry.

Congratulations Jamee! We know you are the greatest. Terri, Yucca, Mike, Bandit, and Champ.

Elizabeth A. Zib

Congratulations "Little One". God bless you and keep you in his tender care.

Senior Picnic Typifies Eventful Year

SENIORS! The responsibility implied in this word was upheld well by the Senior Class of '79. They proved that their slightly unorthodox way of "Going for it" worked well, with many leadership qualities surfacing and the whole school and community feeling it.

While always having a good time, the class managed to pull together "Spook Alley" and win the Canned Food Drive. The fun turned into apprehension as the Graduation announcements arrived to signal the years end. Old friendships were strengthened at the Senior Picnic, which was put together with the help of Bill O'Thuse Robb Boyer, and many parents and administrators.

Everyone had a good time and really got to know all their classmates, but unfortunately it was the last time for them to get together. That special feeling of class pride and closeness was formed and can never be forgotten.

Digging in are Jamee Townes and Lynn Sickles.

Super Class Sponsors: Mr. Boyer and Mr. O'Thuse.

Professor Awards Gruening Winners

Since the Babiche staff decided to "Go For It" all with a total book this year, it became obvious that the Gruening Award could not be given out as in the past. In order to recognize these winners, a presentation was incorporated with the Senior Awards on May 16.

Keeping the tradition of a fine guest speaker was Charles Keim, currently Emeritus Professor of English and Journalism at the University of Alaska, a registered guide with a reputation for offering some of the finest hunts anywhere, a noted speaker and author, and a close, personal friend of the late Ernest Gruening.

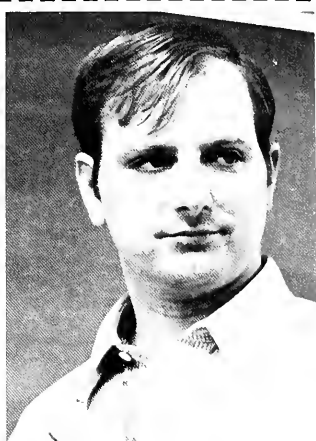

Many of Mr. Keim's works and writings have won numerous awards from various clubs and states.

Billie Moore

With all of the worthy nominees this year it was difficult to choose one Non-Student who exemplified the meaning of the Gruening Award. Based on her contributions to the school and community with little recognition, it is with great honor that the 1979 Non-Student Award is given to Mrs. Billie Moore—Eagle River Librarian.

Mrs. Moore has contributed so much to so many that it is impossible to list them all. If you need a book, she is the one to see. She gladly donated her time to help get the library at the high school started. Mrs. Moore has a rare, exuberant personality. She has been a vital part of the summer program, a program for which kids receive stars for books read. She has been instrumental in the growth of reading in this area, and typifies the ideal Gruening winner.

Barry Stratton

Barry Stratton has been in Yearbook at Chugiak for two years, and was 1979 Co-Editor. He has participated in Babe Ruth and American Legion baseball, and has also played CHS basketball. Barry has attained a 3.55 grade point average at Chugiak, and was named to the 1978 Graduation Honor Guard. His hobbies include fishing, hunting, being outdoors, and photography.

Throughout his high school years Barry has selflessly contributed his own time and energy to the school and community, and deserves the recognition of the 1979 Senior Boy Gruening Award.

Rebecca Roberts

Rebecca Roberts has been involved in SFC for four years, and in 1979 served as Vice-President of Representatives. She has participated in track and volleyball, chaired Graduation and Homecoming committees, and has been Classes section Co-Editor. In her junior year Becca was a Girls' State delegate, and also assumed the Yearbook position of Activities section Editor. She has been a member of the Honor Society.

In giving her time for the betterment of her school and community, Becca is an excellent recipient of the 1979 Senior Girl Gruening Award.

As underclassmen we looked up to those above us, and wondered what it would feel like to be on top. As the years passed and we pursued different directions, the unity of our class remained.

We felt and knew that we would always be Number 1, and Go For It

Supremely

Throughout the school year, the senior class has been involved in numerous projects.

Whether it was constructing Spook Alley or enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Kirk, we were all able to get together

And Go For It ...

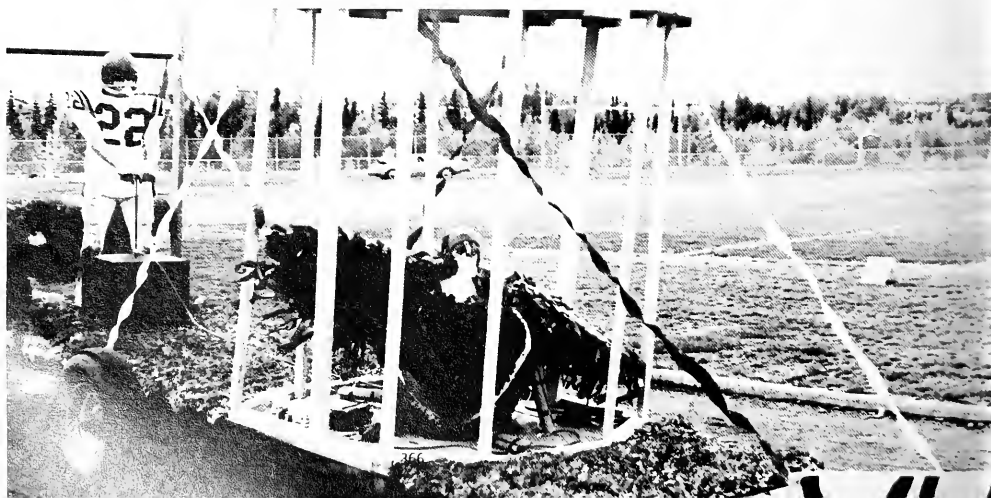

Energetically

As we look back over our past years at Chugiak, we remember things like Homecomings, Jr. High P.E., and even old class sponsors.

In future years we will be able to tell others about "the good old days," because no matter where we are we will always remember—
And Go For It ...

Nostalgically

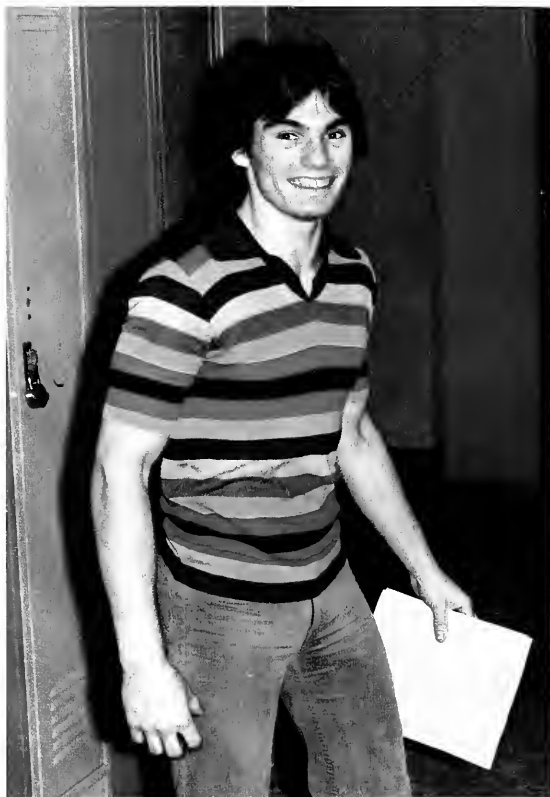

While many of us blend into the crowd, some of us have those striking or peCuliAR traits that make us stand out from the rest. Being independent doesn't mean that we stick to ourselves. It means that when we want something done, we do it on our own, without depending on others. We go for it . . .

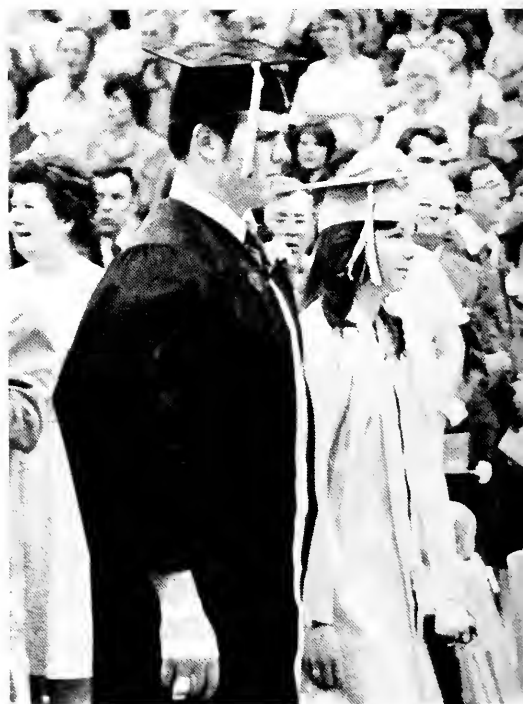

Individually,

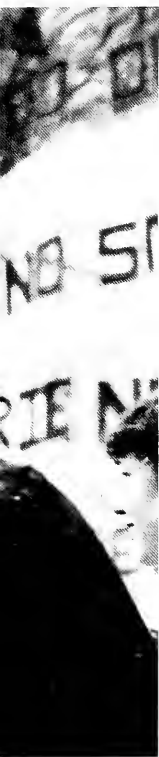

The graduation ceremonies proceed and each of us anticipates our turn to travel toward the stage and receive our diploma. However, we must control ourselves from any outburst, standing in line patiently and attentively watching. We are ready to explode but maintain ourselves and Go For It...

... Orderly

Our final moments as high school students are drawing to a close and many of us ask ourselves, "What will I do now?"

Receiving our diplomas opens up a new world for us, a world filled with new freedoms and responsibilities.

*Yet, we will never forget, or fail to cherish
the way we have gone for it...*

Supremely

Energetically

Nostalgically

Individually

Orderly...

and now we must learn to cope with our new world, and Go For It...

... Responsibly

Once again setting precedent, this time with a "full-year book," the Babiche staff worked hard to make this book the best. The book reflected the theme, so when we decided to "Go For It!" we knew we would have the support of everyone.

As accurately as possible we tried to portray the year, and we are very grateful for everyone's submission to our radical hours and behavior. We would like to especially commend the following people for their infallible assistance, as well as anyone who may, by pure misfortune, be omitted.

We give our expressed gratitude to...

MR. and MRS. BOB ELIASSEN, for their snug cabin where it all came back that long September weekend, and for that great speech from Mrs. Eliassen.

MR. and MRS. J.V. BROWN, for use of their beautiful chalet where some of it came, and also their excellent ideas.

REM-PAK STUDIOS, for their touching formal portraits, and excellent photographic assistance where it was really needed.

JOSTEN'S AMERICAN YEARBOOK COMPANY, for the vast amount of information, ideas, and help that went into this book.

ADVERTISER'S, without whose assistance we could not produce a real Babiche yearbook.

TOM CRESAP, for his intrinsic knowledge and assistance in insuring true photographic quality in this book.

ADMINISTRATORS, FACULTY, TEACHERS, and STUDENTS, for their needed and received support and photogeniality.

BABICHE PARENTS, who often don't see their offspring when we have a late Friday deadline.

CRETUS DARBY, and her fantastic staff who did their work and didn't mind the noise and confusion (too much).

GERALD PARK, for production of the portrait cutting forms.

BILL McNALL, for his great patience and understanding when we borrowed his wife (she was pregnant, you know).

KEITH McNALL, for keeping all he knew a secret.

MICHAEL PATRICK WARREN McNALL, who sat back and heard it all, and who never said a word (yet).

STEVE GROHOL, BILL GOULD, DAVID PORTE, and KISTAL BAKER, for the use of their private negatives.

The value of this assistance is intangible, and so is the value of your book and your year.
